

Guildford Accordion Club

Newsletter 16th June 2017

Masahiro Ogawa

Masahiro started playing the accordion at 5 years old taught by his mother who is a piano and accordion teacher. Since 12 years he has been self-taught and had no further other formal type of training. He soon developed his own style of playing, particularly enjoying playing film scores.

He is returning to Japan after spending 3 years in London so we are fortunate to have him play for us this evening. We wish him all the best for the future. Please give him a warm welcome.

Condolences

It is with great sadness that we tell you that Barbara Shakespeare, one of our members died last Sunday. She was always willing to lend a hand at the club and will be greatly missed.

There will be a service at All Saints Church Sanderstead South Croydon on 14th July 2017 at 12.30 for friends and family.

Afterwards a funeral service for family only at the Crematorium.

We all would like to offer our condolences to her husband Stan and their family.

Next Club Night

21st July 2017

Look forward to seeing you all !
